

John-Mark McCafferty

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

John-Mark McCafferty is Chief Executive Officer with Threshold, the National Housing Charity, whose aim is to prevent homelessness through advice, tenancy protection and advocacy. He took up this position in January 2017.

For over 25 years, John-Mark has worked on social justice issues in Ireland and Scotland. He is one of the leading voices and advocates for positive social change, social inclusion and social justice in Ireland.

Prior to Threshold, John-Mark was Head of Social Justice and Policy with the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, working on policies including income, utilities policy, child poverty, financial inclusion, housing and sustainable development. John-Mark also represented SVP during Social Partnership programmes and was a National Economic and Social Council (NES) member. He worked for the Combat Poverty Agency in Ireland and also Scottish Homes, the national social housing agency. John-Mark holds a Masters in Development Studies from UCD, a Post-Graduate Certificate in Teaching and is a Geography graduate from Glasgow University. John-Mark also has extensive Board experience with Clúid Housing, One Family and chaired the Vincentian Refugee Centre in Dublin.

In September 2020, John-Mark McCafferty was nominated for the Charities Institute of Ireland 'Excellence in Leadership' award which is awarded to a leader in a charity who has made an outstanding contribution to his or her organisation, or the wider sector in the preceding year.
